

LOCAL NEWS.

COUNTY ITEMS.—Sunday morning a carpenter in Arlington by the name of Conners, borrowed a horse from Mr. J. C. Roach, and also one from Mr. R. Buchly, telling the latter gentleman he could sell him a horse for him. Sunday evening Sheriff Roach found C. drunk and unable to tell the horses whereabouts. The Sheriff immediately took measures to recover them, and by the time this is in print they will, no doubt, be found. One was a bay horse, the other a fine gray.

It is said that R. S. Laws, G. O. Ransom, R. D. Ruffin, and a few other colored politicians of Arlington, met in secret session, last week, and nominated an independent county ticket, as follows: R. D. Ruffin, colored, County Clerk; T. W. Newman, Sheriff; Mr. L. E. Payne and Calvia Richardson have been regularly chosen and ratified by the Republican voters of Alexandria county for the above offices.

The Washington Republican contains the following items of news from Alexandria county: The books of the various registrars of the State are now open for the purpose of correcting the registration books, and adding the names of all those entitled to vote and who did not register in May last.

Excelsior Lodge, I. O. G. T., of Arlington, is still in existence, and has rented a new hall, which is being neatly fitted up under the supervision of a committee of the lodge. The new hall is situated over the post office, which has been removed to the store of Mr. Charles F. Corbett, and Mrs. Marie E. Corbett has been appointed assistant postmistress, vice Miss C. W. Wier, resigned.

Among the improvements which are now in progress in the county are the building of a magnificent mansion for the county treasurer, near Ball's Cross Roads; also a very fine residence for Mr. Miles C. Munson, on the Columbia turnpike, and the erection of a large hall at the cross roads, near the intersection of the Alexandria and Georgetown roads and the Columbia turnpike, by Horace S. Johnston; a commodious livery stable in this section.

Mrs. Col. W. M. Lewis, (nee Nannie B. Close), who has been residing with her mother at Arlington since the death of her husband, expects to leave for the North this week to spend the winter with the relatives of her late husband. She will carry with her the well wishes of all who have had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

THE VIRGINIA MIDLAND RAILROAD.—The following notice of the Virginia Midland Road and its employees is taken from a letter dated Washington, D. C., and published in the Heart and Hand of New York:

"Our route southward from this point was via: W. C. V. M. & G. S. R. R., to Lynchburg, returning by a more circuitous route. The above road is very smooth and really appears to be complete in all of its appointments. It was our good fortune to fall into the hands of one of the most polite and gentlemanly conductors it has ever been our good fortune to travel with, in the person of Mr. M. U. King, whom we had never previously met, nor have we had the gratification of seeing him since our return; but his urbane manners and kind attention to all of his passengers, and especially to ladies and children, accompanied by husband or male protectors, was very, very marked indeed, and in strange contrast to the usually rough and uncouth bearing and conduct of men whom we have often observed officiating in this highly responsible position. For instance, we noticed this gentleman when the train would reach the stations (and their name is legion) be prompt to aid and assist the mother with her helpless off-spring either to a comfortable seat in the car, or if at the end of her journey, to a safe position on the platform, frequently gathering to his arms the feeble little 'rooster,' with all the tenderness apparently of a parent's affection, and conveying them to a place of safety, etc. Really we were so favorably impressed with the courteous and quiet bearing of this gentleman that on reaching the junction at Lynchburg, we were prompted by our impulses to inquire of him his name and bestow on him a parting compliment for his exemplary and considerate attention, and was pleased to hear him respond, 'that in ministering to the ease and comfort of his passengers he was only discharging his duty, and at the same time endeavoring to make the road popular with the people.' Noble sentiment! We would most heartily commend this road to travellers, and would add in conclusion that in our opinion any railroad company that selects and retains in their service men of this stamp, merits and should receive a very large share of the patronage of the public."

CONFERENCE.—The Washington District Conference of the M. E. Church, South, met this morning in the Washington-street church, in this city, Rev. Nelson Head, Presiding Elder, in the chair.

After the customary religious services, Rev. F. M. Mills was appointed Secretary and lay delegate Nelson assistant.

The following ministers and lay delegates were then reported: Ministers—Rev. Messrs. Head, Furr, Beall, Strickler, Poulton, Lenthum, Kennedy, Follansbee, Nixon, Crenshaw, Smith, Rowe, Wilson, Robey, Waugh, McElhany, Mills and Little. Lay delegates—Messrs. Diggs, Moran, Wolfe, Farr, Dalgley, Smith, Nelson, Hopkins, Conway, Cummings, May, Hill and Simpson.

The ministers and lay delegates from Mr. Vernon Place, Washington; Alexandria station and Piedmont circuit having reported their financial and spiritual affairs in most prosperous and satisfactory condition, the Conference took a recess until 3 p. m.

Rev. Alpheus Wilson will preach at the church to-night, and there will be preaching there every night during the continuance of the Conference. Conference will meet daily at 9 1/2 a. m. and 3 p. m.

SINGULAR CASE.—The Baltimore Gazette of this morning says:—"Last night a young man dressed in gray clothes with his left hand off appeared at the Odéon, and struck up a conversation with Jacob Greenwald, officer at that establishment. He invited Greenwald outside to his wagon and gave him some oyster out of a large keg. He returned to the Odéon, and told Greenwald that as he wished to go to Alexandria at once he would make him a present of the oyster and wagon. Greenwald accepted the present, and informed officer Hays of the fact, and of his suspicions that the team had been stolen. In the meantime the stranger disappeared. An oyster keg in the wagon was marked with the name of Evans & Cogswill, Oyster and Fish Packers, Baltimore. The number of the wagon was 1281. The team was conveyed to the Middle Station, where the owner can recover his property." Evans & Cogswill lately removed from this city to Baltimore.

CORPORATION COURT.—Judge E. M. Love presiding.—To-day.—Hewlett & Son vs. Dreits; jury sworn; verdict for plaintiff and judgment against defendant for $514.92—costs $118.83.

Report of the Inspectors of the Jail was returned and filed.

Georgus vs. Johnson Bros; in case; plea non assumpsit; replication and issue joined, and leave to plead specially in 30 days.

Weston vs. Hanev; removed; judgment against defendant.

Geutzeberger vs. Dreits; motion on forthcoming bond; jury and verdict for defendant and motion for a new trial.

McDermott vs. Browley & als; issue out; chancery; jury sworn and case in progress.

Accounts of G. H. Ramey, Enoch Grimes, Joseph Padgett and James Ennis were allowed.

STREET RAILROAD.—The sub-committee appointed by the committee that was appointed at the late citizens' meeting to advance the project for recommending the running of the street cars, at an adjourned meeting of that committee, held yesterday afternoon, reported a proposition in writing, made by the railroad company, to lease the road, which Mr. Thornton had agreed to accept, provided the sale of $3,000 worth of fare tickets be assured. The committee will meet again this afternoon, and now having distinct propositions before them, will proceed immediately with the work of collecting the required amount of subscriptions.

ORDINATION AND INSTALLATION OF DEACONS.—The following members of the Second Presbyterian Church—Dr. B. Brown, Wm. A. Moore, A. G. Uhler, and Thos. Leadbeater—were, with due solemnity, ordained and installed Deacons of said church on last evening. The services were conducted by the Rev. Wm. Diwidie, pastor, assisted by the officers of the church, according to primitive usage. By the laying on of hands and prayer these brethren were received by the congregation and the right hand of fellowship extended by the previously inducted Deacons.

POLICE REPORT.—The following cases have been reported at police headquarters since yesterday afternoon:

James Daniels, a stranger, bound to Baltimore, for disorderly conduct, was discharged upon a promise to quit the city.

Daniel Foley, for disorderly conduct, was discharged with a reprimand.

Oscar Turner, colored, a member of the chain gang, locked up for refusing to work on account of insufficient clothing, was sent back to his command.

THE ANNEXATION CASE.—In the Supreme Court of the United States, yesterday, in the case of Robert A. Phillips, plaintiff in error, vs. Charles W. Payne, Mr. Chief Justice Waite announced the decision of the Court, denying the motion to advance this case. This is the Alexandria annexation case. The refusal to advance in the case out of the regular order has the effect to postpone its consideration for about two years.

HORSE THEFT.—It was stated in yesterday's Gazette that a man named Raymond Horseman had stolen a horse from Mr. Buckley and a saddle and bridle from Mr. R. J. Johnson, of this county. Sheriff Roach and Mr. Fred Corbett pursued and captured him and his plunder above Cub Run, and brought them back to Arlington last night, but while the Sheriff went to his supper the prisoner escaped.

A RUNAWAY.—While a funeral procession was on its way to the grave yards, yesterday afternoon, the horses attached to one of the carriages became alarmed while passing the Henry street depot and ran away. The door of the vehicle flew open, and the lady occupants attempted to get out, but were pushed back by persons who ran along by the side of the flying carriage until others had seized the horses and brought them to a halt.

THE CANAL.—Canal navigation from here to Cumberland is now in excellent condition, and both the Alexandria and the Chesapeake and Ohio Canals are said to be in as good order as ever before. Boats are arriving at and departing from Georgetown and this port freely, and a large quantity of coal is accumulating at the several depots. An unusually numerous fleet of boats has collected at Georgetown waiting to be unloaded.

REGISTRATION.—The registration books will be opened at the usual places in this city on the 22d inst., and continue open three days. It is to be hoped that all who have changed their residence since the last election, or who have come of age since then, or who have heretofore neglected to register will take the little trouble requisite to enable them to vote at the approaching election.

Mr. A. M. Hall, photographer, has issued, for distribution to the voters, a likeness of Gen. Epna Hunton, which, while it is a little better looking than the General, will serve well to bring the people face to face with their representative, and as "pretty is as pretty does," the photograph represents the man whom they delight to honor.

LOUDOUN CIRCUIT COURT.—The Circuit Court for Loudoun county, Judge Keith presiding, commenced at Leesburg this morning. The case of Golden, for the murder of McFarland, at Gum Spring, will be tried to-morrow. Gen. Payne acting as counsel for the defence, and Gen. Hunton assisting the prosecution.

U. S. COURTS.—Adjourned terms of the U. S. Circuit and District Courts will be held in this city, commencing on the 30th inst.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The numerous friends of Mr. Courtland Smith will regret to learn that that gentleman was taken sick on his way to San Francisco, and was so ill that by the advice of the surgeon of the ship he has returned to New York from Aspinwall, and is on his way back to his home in this city.

The Committee on Streets of the City Council met this morning and inspected the east end of the tunnel on Wilkes street and directed the Superintendent of Police to report its condition and that of the sidewalks leading from it to the river, to the City Council at its next meeting.

A gentleman named Van Fossen, from Ohio, arrived here this morning with his family, on his way to a farm he has lately bought near Nokesville, Prince William county, which he intends to make his home in the future.

The members of Company F. of the First Virginia Regiment, after an agreeable visit to Washington, passed by here this morning on the steamer Keyport on their return to their homes in Richmond.

As will be seen by reference to the advertising columns of the Gazette the Mayor has officially announced that the newly codified laws of the Corporation of Alexandria are now in force.

The Board of Public Works advertise for proposals for paving the sidewalks in front of the old Court House and in front of the property of the City School Board on Columbus street.

A colored member of the chain gang named John Mumps, escaped this morning, but was soon recaptured. He had broken off the ball and concealed the chain in the legs of his pants.

Yesterday on motion of Mr. T. F. Miller, Mr. Jas. Chilton, of Fauquier, Va., was admitted to the bar of the Court of the District of Columbia.

Wild ducks are numerous on the Potomac and the streams emptying into it and are so tame that they are shot from vessels passing up and down the river.

A cargo of iron for the extension of the Washington and Ohio Railroad, arrived here yesterday from Philadelphia.

The slight alarm of fire yesterday afternoon was caused by the burning of the chimney of a house in Hayti.

A boy named Henry Parsons, had his hand injured by a circular saw at the Virginia Sash Factory this morning.

Several delegates to the Irish Catholic Union to assemble in Baltimore to-morrow, stopped here to-day on their way to that city.

Trial of Safe Burglary Conspirators.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20, 1874.—The case of the U. S. against Richard Harrington, Ichabod Nettleship, Col. Whitley and A. B. Williams, indicted for conspiracy in connection with the safe burglary affair was called to-day in the Criminal Court of the District of Columbia, Judge Humphreys presiding.

A. G. Riddle and Clement Hugh Hill, Assistant Attorney General, appeared for the prosecution. Columbus Alexander, with his counsel, Mr. Christy, occupied seats near them. Mr. Walter D. Davidge appeared as counsel for Assistant District Attorney Harrington and A. B. Williams. Gen. Henckle appeared for Col. Whitley. Gen. Henckle offered to submit an affidavit of Nettleship, asking for a continuance of his case. He was not counsel for him, but did so out of professional courtesy for a brother lawyer, who had sent forward the affidavit.

A motion to continue Whitley's case was also submitted, the Court reserving its decision.

A plea in abatement on behalf of all the defendants, to the jurisdiction of the Court was interposed.

Excitement in Shreveport, La.

NEW YORK, October 20.—A special to the Times, dated Shreveport, Oct. 19th, says: The greatest excitement prevails in Shreveport from the prospective arrest of seventy leading merchants and property holders. Affidavits have been made and warrants of arrest prepared for them on the ground that they have violated the Enforcement act by endeavoring to intimidate negro voters. The facts are, these gentlemen feeling that it was necessary to succeed at the forthcoming elections to save themselves from utter financial ruin, determined not to employ any colored men who should vote against them. They therefore drew up and published in the Shreveport Times the following card:

"SHREVEPORT, October 16.—We, the undersigned, merchants of the city of Shreveport, in obedience to a request of the Shreveport Campaign Club, agree to use every endeavor to get our employees to vote the Peoples' ticket at the ensuing election, and in event of their refusal so to do, or in case they vote the Radical ticket, to refuse to employ them at the expiration of their present contracts."

This was signed by 69 of the leading merchants of the city. Through this is an effort to influence the coming election, and therefore blamable, yet it is claimed that it is a commendable effort to restore a better state of things by the ballot without having recourse to revolutionary measures. If warrants of arrest are issued there is a general determination on the part of the younger merchants who are implicated to mount their horses and take to the woods. This might end in a guerrilla warfare. A. B. Sweeney, formerly District Judge, and a candidate for the Legislature on the Radical ticket, is the United States Commissioner before whom the affidavits were made, and whose duty it is to issue warrants of arrest. The rumor of the intended coup coming to the ears of the citizens this morning, an old gentleman called on the U. S. Commissioner and asked him for the facts. He said that the rumor was correct, and that he would have to order the arrest and bail the prisoners, or to resign and leave the disaffected task to others. It is believed that he intends to resign ostensibly to please the citizens but really to give the accused over into the hands of the United States Marshal, who would take them all to New Orleans. This was done in the Colfax case when hundreds of witnesses, for and against, were carried down to the capitol and kept there at their own expense for about eight months, and their families were left destitute, and the general result was a great loss to the entire community without any benefit to the ends of justice.

The Episcopal Convention.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—This morning President Craik, of the Episcopal Convention, after calling the body to order, and the business was accumulating on their hands, and in his opinion they ought to sit in open session until 12 o'clock for the purpose of disposing of that business. He desired that a motion be made to that effect. The motion was made and it was adopted.

Rev. Mr. Benging, of the Committee on Canons, moved, and it was adopted, that the standing order reported by them for the reorganization of the House be recommitted to them.

Rev. Dr. Beardsley, of the Committee on Prayer-book, to whom was referred sundry memorials from the dioceses of Alabama, Albany, Arkansas, Connecticut, Easton Mississippi, Pittsburg, Texas, Vermont and Wisconsin, all in nearly the same language, and petitioning this body to take such measures as in their wisdom may seem proper towards securing for use in Divine worship an English version of the creed—commonly called Nicene—as conformable as may be to the original text.

Bank Robbery.

NASHUA, N. H., Oct. 20.—Last night six masked men entered the room of the cashier of the Southern National Bank at Milford, gagged him, put a rope around his neck, shut his wife, four children and the servant in a closet, dragged him to the bank and made him open the vault which they robbed of $4,500 in currency and $15,000 in bonds, mostly government bonds, and some other securities. They then led him back to the house, tied him to the bed post and left. The family forced open the closet about four o'clock and gave the alarm, but no trace of the robbers could be discovered.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Further developments in the robbery of the Southern National Bank show that the amount of securities taken must approach $100,000. W. B. Towse, J. Flanagan and C. S. Averill are heavy losers, having securities deposited for safe keeping. A portion of the bonds taken are registered and therefore not available.
